BACK COVE

PILSNER

handcrafted in Portland, Maine

Back Cove (n)—a tidal basin on the northern side of the City of Portland, Maine. A popular loop trail runs around the cove.

The Back Cove tidal basin lies at the heart of our city and provides the most iconic view of the Portland skyline. As a tribute to the civic leaders who preserved a park encircling Back Cove 100 years ago, we offer this crisp, easy drinking pilsner.

Back Cove is a North German-style pilsner fermented with kellerbier yeast. Harmoniously balanced, with hints of orchard fruit, clean malt, and earthy bitterness.

Rising Tide Brewing Company opened in 2010 and is a family-owned craft brewery located in Portland, Maine. We specialize in artisanal, hand-crafted ales brewed in small batches. A portion of the grain bill in each batch includes local malts. We aim to create well-balanced beers that are inspired by old world traditions but with modern twists that make them uniquely Rising Tide. Our beers are distributed in Maine, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire.

Our beers are unfiltered and unpasteurized. Haze and yeast sediment in the can are the result of the natural process used to create our beers. Each can is alive! For the very best experience, handle gently, store cool, and drink fresh.
